Izabelle Kelly (Dubbo Day Committee Recognition Award Citation)

Her excitement was tangible when she would send a letter to a friend and especially so if they wrote back to her. Opening the mailbox to discover a handwritten card, note or letter for her was the highlight of her day. During the recent lockdown she was putting her energies into her craft, drawing and painting. Izabelle then started creating cards and letters for her Great Grandmother, who she was unable to visit, and this got her thinking about other elderly people in the community.

Her hand made cards for her Great Grandmother soon turned into a crafting production line and she made over 60 cards initially to deliver to the mailboxes of the residents at Ingenia Gardens in Dubbo. The excitement and joy she experienced while creating and delivering her cards fuelled her to create more.

Residents of the RSL LiveCare – Bill Newton VC Gardens were her next recipients and she is continuing to make more cards and has set herself a target to make and deliver 200 cards in our Dubbo Community hoping to bring a smile to an elderly person's day.
